DOCKET FILE COPY ORIGINAL

Dear Sir:

As a cellular subscriber, I am concerned about the issue of cellular extensions. I believe it is my right to have this service, but due to restrictions placed on cellular subscribers nationwide, we are being denied this valuable service. There is great consumer demand for cellular extensions, and it has been continually proven to be beneficial to the consumer and not harmful or detrimental to the cellular service providers. It is of grave concern to me that my carrier is able to write into my cellular contract that I may not have this service, when I feel it is my option as a paying cellular subscriber to have the cellular extension phone service provided to me by a competitive third party company.

For this reason, I beseech the FCC to make a decision on behalf of all cellular subscribers and consumers in favor of cellular extensions, thus ensuring a more competitive marketplace. Please have my request included in CC Docket 92-115. Thank you.

Sincerely,

PRISS, THAW'S ELECTRIC SERV.
